

Tompkins County Youth Services Dept. Presents

PROJECT LOOK SHARP

Youth Culture & New Technologies
Media Violence & Conflict Resolution

Cyndy Scheibe, Executive Director and Founder of Project Look Sharp and Professor of Psychology at Ithaca College, is a dynamic speaker and workshop leader. Don't miss this opportunity to learn about media literacy from an expert.

Registration Required

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 30 | 8:30AM -12:30PM

LOCATION: HOTEL ITHACA, 222 S. CAYUGA ST., ITHACA

LIGHT REFRESHMENTS WILL BE PROVIDED

- Wikis, Facebook, Twitter, texting, gaming: How and why are students using new communication media at rapidly increasing rates? What are our concerns, and what can we as parents and educators do about it?
- What are the potential effects of verbal and physical violence shown in movies, TV, video games, and social media on children and teens? How can media literacy approaches help?

To Register: Contact Theresa Albert at 607-274-5310 or talbert@tompkins-co.org no later than Oct. 22nd.

The TC Youth Services Dept. invests time, funding, and resources in communities to enable all youth to thrive in school, work, and life.
